

SEE WHAT A TRULY UNIFIED MIDDLE-TO-BACK OFFICE CAN DO FOR YOU

With the derivatives clearing industry facing greater volumes than ever before, it's never been more urgent to embrace the next generation of middle- and back-office technology. But it takes innovation and strategy to be successful for the long term.

Make sure your tech partner can deliver what you need, when you need it.

LOWER TCO

A cloud-hosted, open-source, API-based system, designed for continuous integration, helps you reduce the size of your IT environment, speed up time to market and adapt to business demands faster for a stronger bottom line.

Unlock over 15 percent increases in straight-through processing (STP) and 30 percent reduction in manual activities.

INCREASED EFFICIENCIES

Create business and process efficiencies with a real-time, scalable, unified platform.

Rules-driven automation technology can streamline operational workflows and enable straight-through processing and a clear view of the entire processing cycle.

Stress-tested at over 10 million transactions on a single market and 15-20 times faster than heritage systems.

REDUCED RISK

User-friendly, integrated dashboards that track activities and priorities will reduce risk and give you a granular audit trail.

Now you have the operational control you need to maintain compliance and support continuous improvement.

New monitoring capabilities and integration with the wider FIS Risk technology framework.

FASTER RESPONSE TIMES

With a unified middle- and back-office system, you can dynamically scale performance in the back office to match trading volume spikes in the middle office. That means greater efficiency and stability than ever before.

Successful processing of 3x to 10x volumes with no downtime.

EXCELLENT CLIENT SERVICE

If you have a single view of your customers across all post-trade functions, you can deliver superior service and reporting to your clients and increase loyalty.
